Managing People Effectively with PHP

the most powerful ingredient for
Solving Sticky People Problems
...by using your INNER SENSE

You just found out that your new, wonderful employee of four months lied on his application. What do you do?

You observe that an employee, returning from lunch, appears to be staggering and slurring her words. Do you confront her?

One of your best male employees tells you that his female co-worker stares at him; and he's troubled by it. What now?!

CONFLICTS... LAZINESS... ATTITUDES...
FIRING... HIRING... MORALE... STRESS...

Managing People Effectively with PHP... is based on nearly thirty years of observing how textbook handling of many sticky people problems just does not work. When PHP is added to any communication mix, it simply works better. Problems are fixed more permanently. Fewer lawsuits occur. Managers are less stressed. Employees are not only happier, but much more productive as well.
